"Back was Very Painful I am now Well Again"

Mrs. Wm. Walker, Webbwood, Ont., writes:

"I was sick for several months with my stomach. I had pain in the back, and I used to dread wash day, for my back would pain so that I couldn't lie down when night came. I also had gas on my stomach, and my appetite was so poor that sometimes I did not care whether I ate or not. The doctor gave me medicine, of which I took a number of bottles without benefit. At last I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I have only used three boxes. I am now well again."

DEFYING THE GOVERNMENT.

R. E. Beattie, Vancouver, harbor commissioner, is in militant mood. The commission which investigated the grant of the right of way to the elevators is said to be the control of the elevators at that port be taken out of the hands of the present governing body and given to another—whom presumably would represent national rather than local interests. With this proposal the commissioner of the board takes issue. He says flatly that any attempt of the kind will be fought, and declares that the elevators are not belonging to the harbor board nor the Dominion.

It will perhaps be as well if the Government decides to "go to the mat" with the Vancouver harbor board and finally and finally where the controlling authority over the elevators is to reside. If the terminal facilities belong to the Vancouver board then the body may be left to do its own business in future. It would certainly be curious if more millions of Dominion money should be advanced to a board which thus blatantly proclaims its freedom of Government control. The more curious because the board has given evidence in the past that it proposes to administer the elevators with a view to collecting the maximum toll from the elevator trade. If the elevators are to be run in the interests of Vancouver, it is better that the fact be known at once and Vancouver tried to provide the money when more elevators are required.

THE ETERNAL TOPIO.

February is not necessarily spring, even when it looks and feels like it. January, that is, of the older provinces is not a common feature of the western climate, but February not infrequently brings a very acceptable substitute. There have been seasons, though, when the weather has faithfully "let up" during the second month of the year and there followed a steady moderation toward spring conditions. Usually the "let up" is only temporary, however, as elevators March is to be reckoned as one of the cold months. February this year began with one of the most unpleasant days of the winter, but with Monday came a rise in temperature and on Tuesday the snow was thawing rapidly. Whether or not this is only a respite, it is welcome. The weather has been continuously cold since November, usually so. The season has been compared, not unreasonably, with the "long winter" of ignominious memory. It is something to be able for a time to escape stoking the stove with coal, and the drawing pay for it instead of subsidizing the coal man for the privilege of doing it.

Quite as welcome as the higher temperature has been the brighter sun of the last few days. Alberta boasts its "sunny" winters. But the tradition was not established by winters such as the present one, and is poorly sustained by it. There has been an altogether abnormal prevalence of dull weather. So prevalent that it came with something of surprise to note on Monday how high the sun has climbed and how much the days have lengthened. Sports may not be here, but it is well on the way. Daily the tempering influence of the sun will strengthen and the prospect of severe weather grows less. Almost anything is possible in the way of variable conditions may be looked for before the end of March, but another siege of extreme cold is scarcely likely to occur. With February the year begun, the worst of the winter may be supposed to be over and another out-of-door season in sight. In town and country thoughts will be turning to the coming of spring and the many pleasures of summer activities in the way of work and of play.

THE SESSION AT OTTAWA.

Parliament meets at Ottawa. A forecast. What, if anything, is likely to make the session memorable there is little opportunity to predict. It can scarcely be another "tariff session." A substantial revision of duties was made a year ago. The results have hardly had time to become apparent or the business of the country to adapt itself to the changes. From the revenue standpoint there are indications that the effect has not been altogether satisfactory. The disposition of the Government will probably be to leave the tariff as it stands for the time. Mr. Meighen, of course, will find evidence of widespread discontent resulting from the lack of sufficient protection, but that he will be able to do more than talk propaganda into hands is impossible. The Progressives desire support him if they would, and many of them would not if they dared. Without their help he cannot bring about a deadlock, small though the Government's majority is.

The projected restriction of the two power of the Senate will be proposed according to an announcement by the Premier. What is to be attempted has been stated clearly. The proposal is to set bounds to the power of the Upper Chamber such as those which fix the latitude of the British House of Lords. It is foreseeable that there will be a bitter and perhaps prolonged struggle over even that modified amount of restraint being imposed, and it is not impossible that a situation may result which can only be solved by a general election.

The immigration question is bound to come up for discussion, with a prospect that there will be a sharp and perhaps somewhat evenly balanced division. Unemployment is a problem facing every centre of population. Organized labor is hostile to any policy which would increase the number of job-hunters until employment conditions improve. On the other hand, the railways and some other interests are shouting that the gates should be opened and a veritable flood of newcomers invited. There is a danger here of the Conservatives and the Progressives uniting, to oppose anything in the nature of a vigorous immigration policy.

The new trade treaty with Australia will be brought down for review and ratification, and on the terms of it there is also a cleavage of popular opinion which will be reflected in Parliament. The demand for an embargo against the export of pulpwood is gaining strength and may be voiced during the session. Freight rates and how to reduce them is a question that is certain to demand attention, whatever the decision of the Supreme Court on the Crow's Nest issue.

The indications are hardly for a session of outstanding importance, though the possibilities of political reaction are plentiful enough to give interest to the proceedings. Though the elections have favored the Ministers it is still true that they hold office without holding power. While that condition exists both Government and country must sustain the disadvantages and handicaps of uncertainty.

In days like these there are a good many worse places to spend the time than a woodpile, civic or domestic.

Horace Walpole once said it was necessary to ask every morning what victory had been won. Now the question every morning is: What bank has been robbed?

Quebec has a surplus of a million dollars. Needless to say the Taschereau Government is not threatening to impose any kind of taxes on the public. Strange isn't it how the population of that province keeps growing so fast?

When the railways wanted the Crow's Nest Act suspended on account of war conditions they went to Parliament. When they wanted it killed they went to the Railway Commission. From the railway standpoint either authority is competent to annul a freight rate agreement. And seemingly the view prevails in the same quarter that the elevators are not capable of making an agreement that can stick.

Though not directly concerned it is good news to the people in this part of the province that the best sugar factory at Raymond is to become an accomplished fact. The enterprise cannot succeed without helping to improve and stabilize conditions generally and giving encouragement to the starting of other undertakings of the same or equally useful kinds. The more diversified production can be made in Alberta the better for all its residents.

Twenty Years Ago

From the files of the Daily Bulletin, February 5, 1905.

The weather: Maximum, 6; minimum, -21.

WINTER. "Fair play for Calgary is the cause of our town," was the slogan of the day. Many of the men, together with others of a delegation, is on their way to the city to see the Minister of the Interior regarding the proposed temporary capital of the west. The province about to be formed. Both Edmonton and Calgary business men are fighting to have the capital situated at their respective cities.

WATFORD, ONT. The oldest man in the Dominion, John Holbrook, 103, passed away at Brook Township last night. He was in perfect health until shortly before his death.

A letter to the Editor from a well-known trader from the current Ottawa, giving details of the situation.

Three weddings in one day celebrated in one church. A lot of a population of sixty souls is worth noting. But the ceremony was also buried three children the same day.

Our last summer was a very windy one and two men were drowned on Great Slave lake during the season.

We have had three feet of the trading post, but will be the end of the water soon back the blame and the tangled.

The fourth of January, 1905, is a day long to be remembered by the citizens of Fort Resolution. A small-scale epidemic could not have surprised us more than the long looked for Government mail. Our only cry of welcome was the same in. Long may the present government remain in power.

BITUMINOUS SAND. A bulletin recently issued by the Mines Branch, Department of Mines, Ottawa, giving details of the discovery of bituminous sand in the province of Alberta.

NEW EMPIRE TONIGHT

"Ace High" has every indication of meaning "a full house" for Canada's promise entertainers. The Dumbbells, when they come to the Empire this night for an engagement of five nights and a Saturday matinee. For one thing, it's the most pretentious offering thus far staged by this great organization.

Another reason is that everybody is glad to see the bright, particular stars of all the earlier shows again gathered in the one constellation.

Along with Al Plunkett and Ross Hamilton, who have been with the show since the first night in France, there is "Red" Newman, Stan Bennett, Pat Rafferty, "Jack" Holland, Ben Allen, Morley Plunkett and a host of other favorites, all of whom have been identified with "The Dumbbells" at one time or another. Captain Plunkett is to be justly congratulated.

PANTAGES BILL COMMENCES TODAY

Opening this afternoon and continuing until Saturday night the Pantages Theatre offers a vaudeville bill that will take some beating. Critics in Minneapolis claim it is even better than last week's bill, which is some recommendation indeed. The current program boasts three headline features and three other acts that are almost entitled to big billing.

Dave Castello is the acknowledged peer of all equestrians on the American continent and is known wherever the circus caravans have ever visited. He is bringing his own company to Edmonton in an act that not only presents a daring horseman-ship, but provides a lot of comedy as well.

Ben Lee One, the only comedian that the Chicago republic has ever turned out, is returning to Edmonton with a brand new repertoire of songs and stories. Ben has a well-trained singing voice, and in addition a fund of stories that will bring forth one of laughter.

The third headline attraction is a singing and dancing revue entitled "A Modern Housewife," said to be the best husband production of the season. Stanley Hughes and Verna Burke are the featured performers in this act, which will bring the able assistance of Karl Palfant.

There is not a weak act on the bill, and the remaining three attractions maintain the fast pace set by the headliners. Verna Burke will play the violin, sing and dance, and as a climax perform a stunts on the flying trapeze. "Something Different" is the offering of Carey Donovan and Mary, while the shift is a lot of laughter while two beautiful performers, Follis and LeRoy, will bring a "Reverend" comedy, a combination of songs, patter and comedy. Chapter Nine of "The Go-Getters" will also be screened.

Friday afternoon is ladies' night. Every lady buying a ticket is entitled to bring a friend with her, without any extra charge.

"THE SNOB" PLAYING
CAPITOL THEATRE

Who but a new director would have the daring to make a "snob" the leading character in a play? And who but a capable and talented director would have the courage to play such a character?

The combination appears in "The Snob," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Norma Shearer, beautiful heroine of "Piccadilly," "The Sign of the Cross" and other films, does some excellent work as the neglected and forsaken wife of the "snob," Conrad Nagel, who as the wealthy, snooty town "snob," Hester, is a perfect contrast to her. Her good work in the supporting cast from the novel of the same name by Helen W. Martin. It was adapted and directed by Maria Elton.

Also showing is a Larry Ransom Comedy special, "Horse Shoes."

Mitchell, Ontario. "I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to give away letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use the letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. F. J. WARDMAN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are sure for other women. Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial. To you know that in a recent year among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 225,000 letters were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes." This means that out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

SOFT WEATHER AT WINNIPEG

Many Games Have to be Postponed on the Opening Day of Bonspiel.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 4.—Spring-like weather made the going heavy in the opening draws of the Manitoba Curling Association's thirty-seventh annual bonspiel today, and in many of the rink the ice was covered with water. The event was the "bonspiel" that a number of games had to be postponed, owing to the bad ice conditions.

A feature of the afternoon draw in the Dingsell trophy, premier event of the curl, was the defeat of Stoughton of Dauphin, and Rutledge of Port William, both veterans in the game. George McDonald of Port William checked up his first victory today in a good start. Alken of Esplanade and Moffat of Unity taking their initial games, but Eamon of Kamourist had his usual hard luck and lost out under care at the end of the year was to a Manitoba aggregation.
